

PHILADELPHIA ARCHAEOLOGICAL FORUM

The Philadelphia Archaeological Forum (PAF) is dedicated to the protection and preservation of archaeological resources in the Philadelphia, Pennsylvania region. The organization aims to further an awareness of Philadelphia's rich archaeological heritage through educational programs and activities that reach beyond the professional community. PAF advises agencies and the general public on matters relating to the archaeology of Philadelphia, encourages communication among professional archaeologists in the area, and supports the publication of information relating to the archaeology of the city.
